FIREMEN BATTLE FIVE-HOUR BLAZE AT NILES SUNDAY

A grass fire which threatened many homes along Alameda Creek between Niles and the Canyon Heights district was brought under control about 8:30 p.m. Sunday after firemen from Niles, Centerville, Decoto and Mission San Jose had battled the blaze for more than five hours.

The fire started under the Alameda Creek bridge and, whipped by the wind, quickly spread to nearby fields. Firemen did a splendid job of protecting the home of Ray Barnum from the blaze but eight outbuildings were consumed by the fire.

The combined crew of fire-fighters reported that they were greatly handicapped in bringing the fire under control because of the lack of sufficient water.

Five fire trucks, two from Niles, and one ach from Centerville, Decoto and Mission San Jose, were utilized in battling the blaze until about 8:30 p.m.

Two Niles firemen, William Mendonca and Charles Frick, received painful burns while fighting the fire.

Sunday's blaze was the fifth grass fire the local firemen have been called out to extinguish thus far this dry season and was the first that they have been unable to bring under control without assistance.

He has announced that dinner will be served promptly at 7 p.m. and urges members and their guests to arrive early enough to enjoy the hors d'oeuvres which will be served before the dinner. He revealed that approximately 80 reservations had been made Wednesday.

A dance will follow the banquet with music to be furnished by Bill Rice and his 7-piece orchestra, a popular band from the University of California. Maestro Rice is a nephew of Mrs. Clarence Crane of Niles.

EX-G.I. INSURANCE PLANS DISCUSSED

The six permanent plans of insurance, as offered to the ex-servicement by the government were outline this week by E. W. Forsell, veteran administration contact representative who establishes a temporary office in the Memorial Building in Niles each Monday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Forsell listed the six plans as: Ordinary life; 30-payment life; 20-payment life; 20-year endowment; endowment at age of 60; and endowment at age of 65.

He added that many veterans have held off converting their term policies to permanent plans of insurance because of the failure of the government to pay lump-sum claims but revealed that payment may now be secured in any desirable manner on the National Service Life Insurance.

For any additional information veterans are urged to contact Forsell at the Niles Memorial Building any Monday morning.

HILLTOP FIRE NEAR NILES

As The Register goes to press firemen from Niles and Decoto and volunteers from both communities are atop a hill south of the Masonic Home fighting a fire which is raging in a grain field. The burning shocks of grain required a large amount of water to be extinguished and the hardship of reaching the blaze via machines caused the fire-fighters to fight under extreme handicap.

COMMITTEE TO BE FORMED TO WORK FOR HOSPITAL

A committee representing all organizations interested in establishing a hospital district in Washington Township is in prospect, following decision of the Washington Township Planning Committee at a meeting at the high school Wednesday evening, which was attended by approximately 20 persons, including local doctors.

Chairman L. R. Batman was authorized to make the initial appointments to the hospital district committee, and it was decided that the membership of this committee should be enlarged as efforts toward establishing a hospital district progresses. A large committee will be necessary to properly carry out a program of informing voters about the project and circulating petitions to place the issue on a ballot.

NEED 40 BEDS

Secretary Edward E. Enos pointed out that under the State Hospital District law a tax of .20 per $100 assessed valuation may be levied by a hospital district. Presuming that the proposed hospital district be identical with the Washington Union High School District, with an assessed valuation of $21,000,000, a 40-bed hospital could be financed with ease.

It has been estimated that this is about the size hospital that the township needs. Figuring that construction and equipment would cost in the neighborhood of $12,000 per hospital bed, total cost would be around $480,000.

PETITION NECESSARY

In order to form a hospital district under the law, it will be necessary to secure on a petition for an election the signatures of 25 per cent of voters and owners of 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of property. Circulation of such petitions will be the first function of the local hospital district committee when it is formed.

A hospital district is managed by five elected directors.

Following formation of a district, a bond election is necessary to secure funds for construction, equipping, and the commencement of operation.

IRVINGTON HOST TO FIRE FIGHTERS

The Irvington Fire Department was host to the members of the Alameda County Firemen's Association at the regular monthly meeting of the group held last night.

A demonstration on the use of a respirator was given by Manuel Soto and Edward L. Rose, members of the Irvington department who have been designated by Chief Joe Corey to have charge of the emergency equipment.

The meeting, which was held in the Irvington fire house, was attended by fire department members and chiefs from the majority of the fire-fighting units in the county.

Apricot Growers Ready To Dry Crop in Price Protest

Despite announcements by the apricot growers of Washington-Eden Farm Center that they would hold their crops for drying rather than sell for less than $110 per ton, canneries of the area this week were offering an average of $75 per ton and working at near peak production.

Managers of the three canneries in this area pointed out yesterday that this year's crop of apricots is poor in quality because of wind and sunburn. Growers also suffered considerable loss by a high percentage of the fruit being blown to the ground by the recent high winds.

NEAR PEAK PRODUCTION

This year's crop was estimated to be 70 per cent of a six-year average and combined with the damage suffered by the sun and wind the returns to the growers are expected to be considerably less than last year's crop which grossed $100 per ton.

The Campbell Products Company of Decoto reported that they had been operating spasmodically during the past week but expected to hit peak production by this week-end.

The F. E. Booth Company at Centerville reported that they are now employing between 300 and 400 persons and have been operating at peak production for the past several days.

PLAN TO DRY FRUIT

Hunt Foods, Inc., of Hayward, reports that they are employing approximately 200 workers and expect to hit their canning peak about the middle of next week.

Meanwhile, many of the growers who have the facilities are preparing to dry as much of their crop as is possible in protest of tne $75 per ton price.

GROWERS ASKED TO EXHIBIT AT FAIR

The Board of Supervisors of Alameda County recently announced plans for this county's participation in the California State Fair which will open at Sacramento on August 28 and closes on September 7, and Chester E. Stanley, supervisor from this district, this week asked that all growers in the area plan to enter exhibits.

Supervisor Stanley pointed out that vegetables, for which Washington Township is noted, will be entered in competition against those of fifty-seven other counties and asks cooperation in making the county display a representative one. He stated that vintages from the Mission and Irvington districts will be included in the county exhibit.

Growers and producers will be interviewed by a representative of the county in the near future and any further information desired can be obtained by writing to Supervisor Stanley at the Alameda County court house in Oakland.

SERVICES MONDAY FOR JOSEPH GOMES

Funeral services for Joseph S. Gomes, 80, Alvarado, were conducted Monday at 9 a.m. from the Chapel of the Palms, Centerville, followed by a mass at St. Ann's Church, Alvarado, at 9:30 a.m.

Mr. Gomes was a native of Fayal, Azore Islands, but had lived most of his life in Washington Township and was a member of the U.P.E.C. No. 16 of Alvarado.

He was the husband of Mrs. Frances Gomes; father of Mrs. Evelyn Rose, Alvarado, and Mrs. Mamie Roderick, Alviso district; grandfather of Joseph Rose, Alvarado, and Mrs. Celestine Wright of Hayward.

Interment was at Holy Ghost Cemetery, Centerville.

RECOVER AUTOMOBILE STOLEN AT CENTERVILLE

A 1928 Chrysler sedan belonging to Arthur Hayes, Centerville, was reported stolen at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday morning and was recovered at 9:20 a.m. that same morning by Deputy Sheriff Robert Moore.

A bus passenger reported that he had seen a car of that description parked along the highway about a mile north of Irvington with a Negro sitting in the machine. The automobile was vacant when Moore arrived to investigate.

FINAL IN SERIES OF MERCHANTS' MEETINGS TONIGHT

Continuing to attack the critical problems of creating a greater shopping center, Washington Township merchants and their employees will meet for the final of a series of Retail Management Conferences tonight at 7:30 o'clock at Washington Union High School.

Tonight's conference will consider significant problems in the realm of employee relations, and the skills of management that will lead to the development of a more courteous and efficient working force. Methods for improving retail supervision and more effective training of people engaged in distributive enterprise will come under the microscope for analysis and discussion.

WILL USE ILLUSTRATIONS

The discussion will be under the direction of Earl H. Kieselhorst, special supervisor of the Bureau of Business Education of the State Department of Education. He has announced plans to show a sound-slide film of techniques that any merchant can use for effective on-the-job training of personnel. Another will illustrate what management can do to build better employee morale, which today looms so important in the success of any business enterprise.

The retail management conferences are held under the auspices of the Washington Evening School as a part of a state-wide program for adult education.

ADVERTISING DISCUSSED

Thirty merchants of the township attended last week's meeting for a discussion on advertising, display, and selling. General conclusions were that every merchant should have something worth advertising; he should do so effectively in the right places; and he should continue to advertise consistently. The nine factors which influence what any merchant can afford to spend on advertising were considered. These were: Age of store, its size and location, selling policy, area served, services offered, cost of media to be used, what competitors are doing, general business conditions, and type of business. The point was made that any merchant who has not advertised consistently should probably start with an advertising budget of 4 or 5 per cent of sales.

IRVINGTON FIRE FIGHTERS BUSY

The members of the Irvington Fire Department were kept busy during the past week answering alarms, the majority of which came in the early hours of the morning.

Two of the alarms were for grass fires, one of which was dangerously near the large gasoline storage tanks south of town, but the quick response to the 12:45 a.m. call allowed the fire-fighters to bring the blaze under control before extensive damage was done.

Last Friday the volunteer firemen were called to the Tom Burns ranch to extinguish a blaze which destroyed a garage and tank house. The house and car were saved. The final alarm was an automobile fire. The machine, which belonged to Errol Gregory, Copeland Road, was parked along side the house when the fire broke out at 4:30 a.m.

ATTENTION

Because of the holiday on July 4th The Register will be published one day earlier next week and will be in the mail Thursday morning. Advertisers and correspondents are requested to submit their copy one day earlier for next week's edition.

WATER DISTRICT REVEALS SUPPLY PROBLEM ACUTE

"The water situation in Washington Township is more acute than most people realize." This statement was made this week by W. B. Patterson, president of the Alameda County Water District.

According to Patterson a check of the water level in the wells now supplying water to all the communities of the township revealed that the level is six to ten feet below the level at this time last year. The danger of this condition is the possibility of the water dropping to a level that would permit the seepage of salt water into the wells and thus render them useless.

RESERVOIR NEEDED

A recent survey revealed that a year-round average of between 15 and 20 million gallons of water are being pumped daily from the reservoirs which supply the area. These figures represent both the water used for homes and that used in irrigation. "At the present time that water has no way of being replaced," Patterson said.

The water district now has an engineer employed to make a survey of three sites near Livermore with the hope of being able to construct a reservoir that could utilize all the water that is now lost into the bay via Alameda Creek. If such a reservoir is established the water could be released into the creek when needed to percolate into the gravel beds here to replenish the wells.

NEED IS REALIZED

"We realize the needs of many sections of the township for additional water for fire protection," Patterson stated, "but it is using up all the supplies we are able to obtain to supply the water commercially to new housing units and areas that have been without any water."

He revealed that the district now has some six-inch pipe to be used as soon as necessary permits are received in connecting Mission San Jose directly with the Hetch-Hetchy pipeline. The use of the Hetch-Hetchy water plus that obtained on the T. A. Witherly ranch for the Mission District will relieve some of the drain on the wells here.

NEW WELL BEING BORED

Next in line for a new water pipeline is the district located on Palm Avenue between Irvington and Mission San Jose. A line will be laid in that area and the houses connected just as soon as the four-inch pipe now on order has been delivered, Patterson promised.

One new well is being bored by the district this week. The site of the well is approximately 100 feet south of the Centerville-Niles highway along Santos Road. It is expected that the well, which is now down about 80 feet and in gravel, will go to a depth of 200 feet.

"Many residents here are of the opinion that some of the communities are now being supplied with water from the Hetch-Hetchy pipeline," Patterson said. "This assumption is not correct. We can only tap the pipeline in the case of emergencies. We are, however, hoping to obtain permission to supply the Mission district with this water supplemented with the spring water"

BLAKES ALL WORK FOR SAME COMPANY

Mrs. Walter Blake, formerly of Niles, has been named the agency manager of the telephone company at Irvington, succeeding Mrs. Leslie Hiller, who has moved with her family to the southern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Blake and their son, Walter Jr., will occupy the same residence in which the Hillers have been living.

Mrs. Blake comes to her new position with several years of experience behind her, having been employed by the same company in another position.

Walter Blake Jr. will also take a position with the telephone company this week, as an installer and repairman in Hayward.

That makes a "full house" for the Blakes, as Mr. Blake has been employed by the company for several years.

BUILDERS TO ENTER PLEAS HERE TODAY

C. G. Shuman, L. M. Lewis and Dan B. Bodily, builders and developers of the Hansen Tract in Centerville, will appear before Judge Allen G. Norris in Centerville Justice Court today (Friday) at 2 p.m. to enter their pleas on charges of "unlawfully engaging in the business and act in the capacity of a contractor without having first obtained a license from the Contractors' License Board."

The complaints were filed by August F. Rahlves, state inspector of the contractors' license board, for violation of Section 7028 of the Business and Professional Code of California.

The investigation was instigated by a Citizens' Committee composed of ten of the home owners in the new housing tract.

NEW FAIR DISTRICT BILL TO GOVERNOR

The Register was informed this week by Assemblyman Francis Dunn Jr. that his Assembly Bill No. 2715, authorizing the creation of a second fair district in Alameda County, has passed both houses of the legislature and is now before the governor for his signature.

The bill, headed "New Agriculture Districts, and regulating the conduct of agricultural fairs therein," establishes District 53 which will include "That portion of Alameda County comprising Murray, Washington and Pleasanton Townships, and a portion of Eden Township."

The bill also states, "No agricultural fair shall be conducted by a district agricultural association in Agricultural District 53 unless and until there has been transferred to such association by the Board of Supervisors of Alameda County or by the Alameda County Fair Association or by both the property of the Alameda County Fair.

"No allocation of state money shall be made to the Alameda County Fair after the transfer provided for in this section is completed."

In his letter Assemblyman Dunn stated: "This will give those people interested in better fairs in Alameda County a chance to work towards that end. There would have been no possibility of creating a new district had we suggested that an additional allocation of the Fairs and Exposition Fund would be required. It is my hope that before the Legislature meets again, any differences of opinions regarding fairs in Alameda County will have been settled to the satisfaction of everyone."

NEW SCOUT HOUSE FOR NILES YOUTHS

A quonset hut, purchased from the War Assets Administration, will be the new headquarters for the Boy and Girl Scouts of Niles if present plans are successfully carried out.

The hut has already been purchased for a sum of $300 and awaits only the approval of the district attorney's office before it can be placed on the school grounds at Niles, the location that was thought best suited by all of those who studied the situation.

Once the district attorney's office gives the go-thead signal, the moving and installation of the hut will provide only a minimum of difficulty, it was pointed out by those Scouters who are working on the project. With volunteer help, which is practically assured, it should not be many weeks before the Scouts will be installed in their new Scout house.

IRVINGTON GROUP ENJOYS BARN DANCE

An old fashioned barn dance was held last Saturday night in the auditorium of the Irvington Grammar School under the auspices of the St. Jude Institute No. 163, Y.L.I., and was reported to be highly enjoyed by a large crowd.

The group danced the chamarita, broom dance and tag dances to the music of Alberta Hendricks and her orchestra.

CANYON RESIDENTS PETITION FOR WATER INCREASE

A petition was circulated by the residents of Niles Canyon this week requesting that the Public Utilities California Corporation system which serves that district, be redesigned so that the volume and pressure of water will be increased.

The petition is an aftermath of last Sunday's fire which raged along Alameda Creek for more than five hours, burning eight outbuildings and threatening numerous homes.

NO WATER DURING FIRE

Firemen, both here and from neighboring communities who were called in to assist, reported that the small flow of water through the mains was the cause of their having such difficulty in bringing the blaze under control.

Mrs. R. N. Ripley, who was circulating the petition Wednesday, reported that she was unable to draw any water from the pipes in her home during the time the firemen were fighting the blaze and for a period of nearly three hours after the fire had been extinguished. "It was necessary for us to melt ice cubes from the refrigerator for drinking water," she stated.

Mrs. Ripley pointed out that the homes are located next to an area used as a public picnic grounds which is a potential fire hazard with careless smokers throwing matches and cigarettes in the dead grass.

PETITION TO COMMISSIONERS

The petition, which carries the signatures of 40 residents of the area, will be presented to the Niles Fire Commissioners, who will meet Tuesday, July 1.

The petition reads as follows: "We, the undersigned, as residents of Niles Canyon, Niles, Calif., request that the Public Utilities California Corporation, Niles, Calif., who furnish water to the homes in Niles Canyon redesign their water system so that the normal volume and pressure will be increased as well as increasing the volume of water available in case of emergency."

USED CAR BUSINESS COMING TO NILES

Another new business is coming to Niles.

The announcement was made this week by John Wickering and Marao Accioli of Livermore, who have leased the lot next to the Niles Theater for the purpose of opening a used car business.

The two men, who have been operating the same kind of business in Livermore for several years, asserted that they have great faith in this area and expect that eventually their Niles branch will surpass the one in Livermore. They will still operate the Livermore business, however, which is known as "Johnny's Auto Exchange."

The Niles location was leased from Walter Chrysler, owner.

The newlyweds were given a lovely wedding dinner on Monday evening in Niles Canyon Heights at the home of the bride's parents. A huge white bride's cake with bride and groom, flanked by tall white candles and shining silver made a wonderful centerpiece. The new home was beautifully decorated with long stemmed gladiolis. SCOUTS RETURN FROM CAMP

The Decoto Boy Scouts spent one glorious week at the Dimond-O Camp in Mather. Days spent hiking and swimming and nights spent around camp fires singing or studying the stars.

Shortly after arriving at the camp the scouts were taken on a tour, visiting the craft shops, seeing the large collection of snakes, studying the trees and insect life under the guidance of Bags Kane, who gave an interesting talk on nature study.

Important events of the week consisted of a 14-mile hike taken by 16 of the boys and their Master Pat Luna. Two baseball games were played with Decoto winning both. The first game was played against the Vigilantes with a score of 4 to 2, and the second against the Rangers with Decoto topping them 16 to 2.

The Decoto boys put on a show for the camp in the mess hall. Singing was led by Bobby De La Torre who composed the lyrics to a song which won so much popularity that the camp directors have asked if they might use it for a Scouting song.

"HAIL TO OLD DIMOND-O"

By Bobbie De La Torres

Here we come with a toast and a song to the camp that we love so well.
We love its precious trees and hills, its memories gives us thrills,
And our thoughts remain after we've gone of the camp we've wished upon.

WASHINGTON LOSES TO SAN LEANDRO

Washington Township American Legion junior baseball team was out-errored and out-scored by the San Leandro junior Legion nine last Saturday in a wild, loosely played game that registered a total of 18 errors.

The affair was ended in the ninth frame when, with Washington trailing 10-9, Phil Enciso, Washington catcher, representing the tying run, lost a race to home plate attempting to score from second on a wild throw from the outfield.

Salvador, center fielder for the locals, had a remarkable day at the plate, hitting safely 4 times and scoring 3 runs on 5 times at bat.

Coach Hird's lads won Sunday's game on a forfeit when the Oakland Col. C. C. Young Post team failed to appear for the encounter.

Saturday the locals will be hosts to the Alameda team in a game scheduled for 2 p.m. on the Washington High School diamond. Sunday they will journey to Albany for their final encounter of the current season.

TAPPING THE COLUMBIA

For many years in Washington various people have had the idea of tapping the giant Columbia River for the benefit of the areas far to the south in the basin of the Colorado.

This dramatic idea may not, perhaps, appeal so much to the residents of the Columbia Basin, but it is beginning to find more and more supporters farther south. It promises in time to start a controversy which may become as embittered as that which now rages among the seven states along the Colorado.

As in the Colorado situation, California bids fair to become the center of the argument.

Chairman Richard J. Welch (R-Cal.) of the House Public Lands Committee has introduced a resolution directing the Reclamation Bureau to make a complete survey of the economic and engineering possibilities of "diverting surplus waters from other basins to Southern California and the Colorado River basin."

The Columbia is not mentioned specifically in Welch's resolution, but in a brief statement on the floor of the House he said he had the Columbia particularly in mind because of "the surplus waters of that ideal stream."

"The Columbia River basin has barely begun the utilization which is there possible of the waters of its great river of irrigation, power and other useful purposes," he said.

"I want to see the full development of that utilization in the Columbia River basin itself. But, so immense are the water resources of that basin that even after full development in its basin, after it has served all of the great projects and power plants that are planned, there will be surplus water below Bonneville Dam available for the Colorado River basin. What some of that surplus would mean to Southern California, for instance, is beyond measure."

Welch pointed out that the Central Valley Project in California is designated to move water from Shasta Dam almost 500 miles south to Bakersfield.

"This southward shift must be continued progressively in the years to come," he said.

Welch admitted that the program in his resolution could not be accomplished in one year or two. Rather, he indicated, it is one of those long-range propositions which the Bureau loves to undertake—running on for many years after the original authorization has been all but forgotten.

Two ideas have been put forward over the years for the vast engineering project contemplated in Welch's resolution. One is to tap the Columbia toward its headwaters and by a system of canals and connecting rivers across the Mountain West, carry its waters to the headwaters of the Colorado. The other is to divert some of the waters of the Columbia farther down in the area between the great dams and the sea and carry it south a thousand miles in canals near the coast.

Both seem fantastically immense projects, but given modern engineering methods and the financial support of the government it seems likely that one or the other could be worked out in a practical way.

One thing, however, has been left out of account by Welch and others who propose diverting the Columbia. That is the possibility that the Columbia Basin itself may someday need all of the waters of its majestic river. This would support an industrial and population growth as great as that now taking place in California; but such a growth is not beyond the realm of possibility.

California, foresighted always where water is concerned, is looking far to the future when it asks for water from the Columbia.

The people of the Northwest, equally foresighted, may find themselves in no great hurry at all to comply with the wishes of California.

FARM NEWS

CONTROL FOR TOMATO WORMS

Three worms that infest tomatoes should be controlled now, the corn cutworm, horn worm, and pin worm.

The corn worm damages tomato fruits from May to December. It enters at the stem or flower end of the fruit and feeds within. Dustings of cryolite and sulfur are applied for control, starting with the first application when the fruit sets and continuing at three week intervals. Three applications are necessary. In northern California, 75 per cent calcium arsenate and 25 per cent sulfur is recommended; 75 per cent commercial cryolite and 25 per cent sulfur is suggested for southern California,

The horn worm is generally known to tomato growers, a large green worm with white diagonal stripes on the sides and a horn on the rear of the back. They seriously defoliate the plants in some sections. Control with undiluted calcium arsenate thoroughly applied at 15 to 25 pounds per acre or 75 per cent calcium arsenate and 25 per cent sulfur at 25 to 30 pounds per acre.

From Merced county south the pinworm is a tomato pest. It usually enters the fruit at the stem end, but may enter elsewhere. It makes a very small opening and usually is not detected until picking time. Thorough dusting with 60 to 70 per cent cryolite dust is the recommended control. Dusting should start when the fruit is about the size of a mature plum and continue at two-week intervals until three or four applications have been made.

BUTTER UP, MILK USE DOWN

The wartime pattern in the use of milk is changing.

Even before this country got into World War II the demand for whole milk began going up compared to the demand for farm separated cream, according to Farm Advisor T. O. Morrison. All through the war that trend continued.

But this year this steady rise will halt. The trend may even start the other way.

The farm advisor sums up the dairy situation this way: More buttermilk this year. Smaller sales of fluid milk and cream. Smaller exports.

More milk seems likely to go into making American cheese and evaporated milk, but less will be used for condensed milk, whole milk powder, and cheeses other than American.

As to the prospect for prices, farmers may get less for both milk and butterfat the second half of this year than they got at the peak of prices last year.

LESS GRAIN

Estimates of the yields for 1947 hay and grain crops in California have been reduced below earlier predictions by the prolonged high temperatures and drying winds of May, according to California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Speaking generally, the crops that provide hay and grain concentrates are less in acreage, lower in yield per acre, lower in total production than last year.

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, June 29, with the Golden Text from Matthew: "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give" (10:8).

The following citation is included in the sermon:

John: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (14:12).

Bendels Home from Eastern Trip

Arriving home Sunday after a glorious five weeks spent vacationing and sightseeing in the eastern part of our country were Mr. and Mrs. Roland Bendel of Niles.

The major reason for the Bendels leaving for the East was to witness the graduation of their son, Roland Jr., from Annapolis. They spent a week there, and later visited such interesting spots as Williamsburg, New York City, Boston, Washington, D. C., Montreal, Quebec, Toronto, and on across the country to Vancouver, B.C. On their way east they stopped at Grand Canyon. "I thought we had everything in California," said Mrs. Bendel, "but the canyon can equal, if not surpass, anything we have here."

Ensign Bendel arrived home, before his parents, just after graduating. He spent a week at Carmel, another week at Yosemite, and next Tuesday will find him reporting to San Pedro, where he will be attached to the heavy cruiser, "Bremerton."

BLUE UNIFORMS FOR DEPUTY SHERIFFS

Effective September 1, Alameda county deputy sheriffs will be wearing new style blue uniforms.

The new uniforms, which will replace the olive-drab now worn, will feature light weight blue caps, dark blue Eisenhower jackets and matching trousers with a light blue stripe, gray shirts and dark blue ties.

Sheriff H. P. Gleason has explained that the uniforms are being changed to prevent the deputies' uniforms from becoming confused with non-official uniforms.

Although the change is effective September 1, deputies will be given until January 1, 1948, to wear out their old uniforms.

1947: Halfway Mark

Yesterday, 1947 was the New Year. Today, it is half gone.

A quick review of the past six months shows that there was no lack of the dramatic developments to which we have become accustomed in recent years both at home and abroad.

In politics, Congress held much of the spotlight through its efforts to enact labor controls and cut taxes; President Truman all but formally announced his candidacy for re-election in 1948; Henry Wallace gave the political pot a heavy stirring with his speaking tour around the country; and Georgia had two governors instead of one for many weeks.

Labor came in for its share of the attention. At various times these incidents held the public eye: The Supreme Court's decision upholding the contempt charge against John L. Lewis; the outlawing of the portal-to-portal claims; the telephone strike; the frequent difficulties in Detroit; the Centralia mine disaster and the temporary shut down of coal mines; the Maritime impasse; and the series of local transportation tie ups.

Overseas, Britain staggered through its worst winter in half a century; the Moscow conference went the way of all such conferences—only more so; France and Italy strove mightily to survive against internal communist pressure; the duly-elected Hungarian government vanished into oblivion under the same pressure; and the Truman Doctrine gave democratic elements hope that the communist tide would be stemmed before it engulfed all of Europe.

Yes, 1947 thus far has had few dull moments.

Death Rides the Airways

The inescapable headlines of tragedy in the air once again have riveted the nation's glance skyward. Commercial airlines, which consistently have been plagued by epidemics of air disasters, are faced with six major crashes in the past six weeks. The year's death toll from major civilian airline crashes alone has soared to 293 people.

The very concentration of air tragedies, into a short period, has been an important factor leading to a demand for action to curtail death's time on the airways. Now, the airlines, faced with shrunken passenger revenues, have joined with a Presidential investigating committee to seek out every possible means of making commercial plane travel safer.

Suggestions already made public to combat air disasters include Howard Hughes' radar system, which warns of any obstacle within 2000 feet of an aircraft, forward or down. Hughes claims four of the six recent crashes could have been prevented by his proven, inexpensive device. Development of a less volatile fuel has been demanded by the Airline Pilots' Association, to prevent explosions in minor crashes. The pilots also suggest automatic fire extinguishing systems on all planes. The House Appropriations Committee has approved a $10,000,000 fund for improved aviation research facilities. The suggestion has been made that all planes, of a type, be grounded the moment any difficulty is encountered.

Unquestioned is the high caliber of U. S. pilots. Still many feel that like the automobile driver, pilots sometimes grow careless, and should be subject to continuous accident-prevention education.

An awakened nation and an alert industry are sure to find safety steps that will remove much of the danger from air travel, just as constant vigilance on the part of the railroads has greatly reduced rail fatalities.

Thinking Things Over . . .

By VIVIAN BATMAN

DAY AT THE RACES

This way, folks. Buy your tickets now, so you can get a good look at the races that are being held every day this summer on Niles Main Street.

The participants? Don't be silly. Surely you must have heard. Why, it's none other than the Peerless Buses versus the gravel trucks. Each one, apparently, is trying to chalk up some kind of a speed record.

Unlike the Indianapolis Speedway, or even the Oakland Speedway, where the drivers of the racing vehicles so often meet death, the drivers in this case are fairly safe. It is the Niles pedestrian who is taking his life in his hands when he crosses Main Street in the pathway of these speeding autos, because at the rate they travel, it would take a block to come to a stop.

Really, folks. you have no idea of what you're missing by avoiding Main Street—death-dealing thrills, dare-devil drivers! It's colossal, stupendous!

THE CASE OF THE MISSING SWIM SUIT

A certain Centerville woman is repenting the fact this week that she left the family's swimming suits in the back yard.

The garbage man, apparently in a whirl-wind effort to make a clean sweep of everything in sight (a most unusual mood for a garbage man to be in!) took the rolled-up swim suits right along with the potato peelings and empty cans and dumped the whole lot into his truck, gorged with its assortment of unwanted products from all around the community.

The lady in question, with her family, later on decided the day was just right for a swim. But no swim suits. She remembered the garbage man. It must be he! But who was he? What company did he represent! (All right, if you're so smart, I defy you and you and YOU to tell me the name of your garbage company).

The lady was smart. She looked on her garbage receipt. Down in the corner she saw the tiny letters, "Printed by The Township Register." (Plug.) There! That was her solution. She immediately phoned The Register. How could she get in touch with the garbage man? The Register (another plug!) immediately contacted the garbage man. The garbage man looked hurt. He looked shocked. "My God!" he said, wiping his brow while he envisioned, no doubt, the tons and tons of garbage he'd have to search through, "It just can't happen!"

There's a gap in the story there, of which we know nothing. At the last installment, the Centerville lady had a bathing suit brought back to her. That is, she was TOLD it was a bathing suit. And, as a matter of fact, it actually bore a resemblance to a bathing suit.

MORAL: Hang your swim suits near a garbage can, but for heaven's sakes keep an eye on them!

NEW PARTNERS IN NEWARK BUSINESS

The announcement was made this week that Jesse Johnson, co-owner of the Township Refrigeration Company in Newark, had sold his share of the business to Leslie W. Steckbar, effective June 18.

Steckbar and Melvin Vargas, now partners in the firm, became acquainted while they were both attending the Industrial Training Institute in Chicago following their discharge from the armed forces. Mr. and Mrs. Steckbar, formerly of Wisconsin, are residing with Mr. and Mrs. Vargas until housing accommodations can be located. The company will continue its service of the past in selling and repairing all types of electrical appliances, concentrating on refrigeration.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have not announced their future plans with the exception that they expect to move back to Fresno where they formerly resided.

CENTERVILLE BURGLARY NETS CULPRITS $25

The Bearcat Club at Centerville was burglarized late Thursday evening or early Friday morning last week with the culprits getting approximately $25 in cash from the cash register.

NILES ROTARIANS VISIT PRISON FARM

"Temporary callers" at the Santa Rita Prison Farm last Monday were Ed Demler, Dr. T. C. Wilson, George Bonde and W. F. Lamoreux, members of the Niles Rotary Club who attended a special meeting of the Hayward Rotary Club held at the prison farm.

Sheriff Jack Gleason, who was host to the party, pointed out that the farm is being operated as an experiment. The plan is to get short term and first offenders into an environment where they can be engaged in useful and interesting work that will keep them in better condition mentally and emotionally than is possible under usual jail conditions.

CITIZEN ACTION ON TAX BUDGET URGED

Alameda county's $12,801,482 expenditure for 1945-46 was 3 per cent higher than the prewar $12,478,247 for 1940-41, and 5 per cent higher than the $12,177,649 for 1944-45, the last war year, California Taxpayers' Association reported this week. Data include county general government costs only.

"Local tax bills next November are based on the budgets for 1947-48 which local governing boards are planning right now," the association said.

"If November tax bills are not to skyrocket again, citizen action urging that expenditures be held within bounds, is vital today," the taxpayers' organization declared.

REPORTS THEFT FROM CAR

Local officers are on the lookout this week for a $125 automobile sander which Jess Truax, an employee of the Ford Garage, Centerville, reported was stolen from his car Monday evening or early Tuesday morning.

RETURN HOME FROM DRUID'S CONVENTION

A group of Washington Township residents returned home last week-end from Shasta City, where they attended a four-day convention of Druids. They all reported having a wonderful time attending the sessions of the convention and taking scenic motor trips between sessions.

Those attending included: Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Bernardo, Mrs. Adeline Santos, Mrs. Emma Dias, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Oliveira, Joe Silva, Leland Martin and A. E. Alameda.

California produced a record crop of 46,066,000 bushels of barley in 1946.

PROMENADERS WILL CONTINUE MEETS

Edward L. Rose, president of the Irvington Promenaders, revealed this week that the group will motor to Big Basin Sunday for an all-day outing.

Jake Turnbow, chairman in charge of arrangements, stated that he has completed plans for an open-air barbecue and that reservations for 18 couples had already been received. The group will leave Irvington at 8 a.m. and will return that evening.

Rose also announced that the meetings of the dance group would be continued throughout the summer each Thursday evening in the Irvington Grammar School.

Put an end to "yowps"—
install a Family-Size
GAS WATER HEATER!

Who likes a chilly spray of cold water down the spine? It is certainly something to "yowp" about when you expect to relax with a steamy-sudsy, lazy bath and instead draw ice water.

When the hot water supply in your home "runs out" it means that the family use of hot water is bigger than your water heater can deliver. And the solution is simple—see your gas water heater dealer and have him replace your present heater with a new Automatic Gas Water heater with a big enough tank. Or use the chart below to help you "size-up" the hot water supply needed for your home and family.
